21 Delegates To Sponsor Mock Bills

A delegation of 21 will represent the University at the Connecticut Intercollegiate Student Legislature on the weekend of Feb. 28 in the Capitol Building at Hartford.

University members will sponsor two bills: 1. Reapportionment of the House of Representatives of the General Assembly.

2. State aid to education, including scholarships and loans for construction of buildings.

Four members of the delegation are on committees: Bob D'Andrea, executive committee member and registration chairman; Nicholas Panuzio, senior delegate of the University and chairman of the House Labor Committee; David Barr, chairman of the Senate Judiciary Committee and Ed Ramos, a member of the Senate.

The schedule set for the CISL convention is: Thursday night, Feb. 28, a banquet; Friday morning, March 1, joint session of both Houses and an address by Gov. Abraham A. Ribicoff; Friday afternoon, committee hearings; Saturday, March 2, consideration of the proposed bills.

IFC Supports Fund Campaign

The Inter Fraternity Council voted unanimously to support the University's plan to make available two full tuition scholarships for Hungarian students living in the Bridgeport area in their meeting last week.

The plan was placed before the council by Prof. W. T. Desiero, Chairman of Hungarian Relief Activities on campus.

Desiero disclosed that the campaigning will be initiated for the collection of funds from students. The money collected will complement that contributed by the University.

Other IFC business included planning for the IFC weekend, which may also be run in connection with the Hungarian Relief.

On the agenda for immediate action is a proposal for the purchase of recognition pins for the council. The pins will be of the type used by Student Council.

O'Gorman Selected As Advertising Mgr.

The Scribe Advisory Board announced this week that Brian O'Gorman, a junior majoring in advertising, has been appointed advertising manager of the Scribe for the Spring semester.

O'Gorman replaces Richard Johann who resigned at the beginning of this semester. O'Gorman has been a member of the Scribe advertising sales staff and did extensive work on the Christmas advertising campaign.

Low Cost Salk Shots Offered All

Inexpensive Salk vaccine shots will be available to students, staff and faculty members on April 4 and May 2, according to Mrs. Ruth Muldoon, University nurse.

The price for the shots has been set at $1 per injection for students 19 years of age and under, and $2 for all others.

Mrs. Muldoon emphasized that students under 21 must have parental permission to receive the vaccine.

Permission forms are now available at the Health Service Office, second floor of Bishop Hall. These forms must be returned before March 15.

Students 21 and over and staff and faculty members may sign up for the vaccine any time this week.

The injections will be given on April 4 and May 2, from 9 a.m. to 11:15 a.m. in the Arnold Room of the Gym.

No student under 21 will be injected unless he has a permission slip.

Nor will anyone be taken who has failed to sign up in advance, Mrs. Muldoon said.

She also explained that students who have started polio immunization at home may get their second or third shot here, provided that the required time between shots has elapsed.

Refugees Get English Plan

The University in conjunction with Fairfield University has set up a plan to teach Hungarian refugees basic English in Bridgeport and surrounding areas. This course has been successful at Yale and Danbury State Teacher's College, according to Victor E. Muniec, director of Public Relations. The centers for the instruction of English will be held at the University and Fairfield University.

The committee went to New Haven last week to complete plans on the program. They hope to begin the program within two weeks. The centers will be open five days a week from 3:00 to 8:00 p.m.

Volunteers are needed to instruct the refugees. Any student, faculty members, or faculty wives are eligible. Shifts will be arranged to fit in with programs of those who have little time, but who are interested. If anyone is interested, he may contact Dr. Eric Marcus, professor of Foreign Languages, for further details.

Journalism Class Visits N. Y. Studios

Members of the University's journalism class, "Writing for Radio and Television," leave tonight to tour the N.Y. studios of Transfilms, Inc. They are making this field trip to the TV commercial and industrial film producer's studios to gain a "behind the scenes" observation of the technical aspects of television," according to class instructor Paul deFur.

The trip is being made possible through the efforts of deFur, who is also the director of Maxon, Inc. Advertising Agency in New York City. Planning to make the trip are class members George Kolok, Dave Johnston, Jack Mischou, Larry Babich, Ernie Svab, Willard Miller and Charles Anderson.

Cites Flood Disaster

Ribicoff Lauds Connecticut For Example of Brotherhood

TRAINING FOR LAW

The annual Pre-Legal Institute of the Boston College Law School will be held on Saturday, March 2, 1957. This program, which consists of a typical class in law school, a forum on careers in law and films on the legal profession, is open to all upper-classmen in the colleges of New England. The program will commence at 10:45 a.m. and terminate in late afternoon. No reservations are necessary. All participants will be the guests of the Law School for luncheon.

Citing the performance of state residents during the recent Connecticut Valley floods as an example of how people can overcome prejudice and work together "in a spirit of brotherhood," Gov. Abraham Ribicoff held the state up as a model for the world to imitate.

The Governor, sixth annual lecturer in the Jacoby series, spoke before a combined audience of faculty, students and friends of the University in the Gym at an afternoon convocation on Tuesday.

Introduced by Pres. James Halsey, Ribicoff declared that "our people have come to understand that prejudice and discrimination do not make sense. He reminded his audience that the state was founded in brotherhood and, although it was small geographically, it had taken in peoples from all over the world and had treated them with decency.

He stated that this feeling was no historical accident, but rather the fruits of hard practical work in the art of living together. He felt that brotherhood could not be practiced by talking about it or urging one's neighbors to practice it. The main job, he said, is in the hands of the individual who approaches brotherhood with practical action.

The Governor's talk was the high point in the Brotherhood Week observance on campus. The lecture series was established by Frank Jacoby, philanthropist and businessman to further the cause of brotherhood among men.

Vice Pres. Henry Littlefield presided over the session which was preceded by a formal academic procession. Following the lecture the Governor met with members of the Student Council in the Arnold Room of the Gym where he answered student questions.

Navy Revises Officer Plan

The Navy Department announced today that University students can now earn credits toward an ensign's commission.

Improved features in a recent revised Reserve Officer Candidate Program (ROC) state that a student must be at least 17 years old and no more than 27 1/2 upon graduation. If selected, he may enlist in the Naval Reserve for a period of six years and continue in college attending drills at the local training center for which he will be paid.

After graduation the candidate will receive an ensign's commission and serve on active duty for three years.

If a student wishes further information, contact Lt. Cmdr. Davis at the Bridgeport Naval Reserve Training Center, Barnum Dyke at Seaside Park, opposite the Sikorsky landing field. He may also report there Monday or Tuesday from 7 p.m. to 10 p.m.

Gym Dedication Set

Although the Gym has been in use for the past few months, it has not yet been formally dedicated. President James H. Halsey's office announced that it will be, come May 1, when the official dedication ceremonies will take place.

Debators Split Forces; Meet Foes in Two Cities

The University Debating Team fielded two teams in two separate debates at the same time for the first time in University history. The last debates took place on Feb. 9 at Wesleyan College in Middletown and Barnard College in New York City.

The University sent a four-member team to the Wesleyan tournament. The affirmative speakers were Gil Strunk and Edmund Ramos. Strunk and Ramos defeated Smith College in the heckle debate, and Wesleyan in the cross examination debate. The two varsity men lost a close match to East Nazarene College in the clash debate.

Speaking for the negative side of the resolution, "Resolved: that the United States should discontinue direct economic aid to foreign countries," were Bob Scholl and Joan Wasko. This squad defeated the New Haven State Teachers' College club, but lost to Amherst. In the third round, the negative club lost to Williams College by a one point margin.

Debating Team coach Dr. Justin van der Kroef, of the sociology department, acted as judge at the Wesleyan tournament.

The University Debating Team won three matches and lost five in the Barnard College debate which attracted 15 colleges.

The affirmative team, composed of Joanne Alechnowicz and Lois Prentice, defeated Columbia University and lost to the winning Princeton team by one point as well as to Fordham College and King's Point Academy.

The negative team of Wilson Fogarty, the only experienced University debater at the contest, and Edmund Clarr defeated Columbia and Mt. St. Vincent College, while losing to St. John's University and LaSalle University.

University graduate student Frank Cavender accompanied the club and served as one of the judges.

Baseball Players Beware

University officials owe the student body and its baseball team constructive action concerning the rescinding of the "College Rule" by the major league owners at their annual meeting held in Chicago last December.

The old "College Rule," which had been in effect for several years, prohibited a major league club from signing a collegian from the time he became a sophomore until his class graduated, unless he reached the age of 21 earlier or could show hardship. The minor leagues never adopted this rule but since many clubs are owned or affiliated with the majors few college players were signed.

Now there will be no restriction on the signing of college players by professional baseball from the major league level on down to the minors. This causes several problems.

First of all college baseball and, in particular, the University's baseball program will suffer, especially if they are "loaded" with talent. But that isn't the worst of it. The students playing ball will suffer more: Too many players, who look good in college, don't have enough talent to make the majors. Some of them will be lured out of college, into Class B or C ball, and never get any higher. They will spend several years chasing a rainbow of a big league career without ever making it. By the time they give up, they are married and never will return to college to finish their studies.

The boys, who might have been engineers, chemists or accountants, must settle for a low-income job for the rest of their lives. Naturally, the youngsters who make the majors won't be hurt too much, if at all, but the chances of making the jump to the majors from a college diamond are 50-1, maybe as high as 100-1.

Since the major league owners refuse to cooperate with the colleges on the "College Rule," the University which has private property rights, could issue a "Keep Out" to all baseball scouts.

But better still, a constructive program should be set up to talk over the new "College Rule" and its implications so that the ball players might become aware of its dangers and pitfalls.

Roucek Publishes in London and U.S.

Dr. Joseph Roucek, chairman of the sociology and political science departments, added two more articles to his long list of publications this week with appearances in print on both sides of the Atlantic.

Considered by many as the most prolific writer on faculty, the expert on Slavic affairs contributed his views to The Educational Forum, the Kappa Delta Pi magazine in this country, and The Contemporary Review in London. The American article is entitled "Tito's Educational Experiences and Experiments" and deals with a sociological examination of Yugoslavia's problems.

The article in the Contemporary Review is called "A Visit to Titoland" in which Roucek gives his impressions of the country after a visit there this summer.

Other countries visited during his lecture tour this summer included Holland, Austria and Spain. While in Madrid he was the guest of U. S. Ambassador to Spain John Lodge at which time Roucek invited the official to attend the annual Pi Gamma Mu—Sociology Colloquium—Political Relations Forum Dinner. Lodge accepted the invitation and was guest speaker at the affair last month.

Alpha to Zeta

by Bobbie Blender

Alexander Pope said, "To err is human, to forgive divine." Well, Blender has erred and SLX must forgive. Last week we suggested (without provocation) that the brother's Snow Ball was not a financial success. Readers, (all 10 or 11 of you) hear me out; there are 32 boys on campus, all members of SLX, who give their solemn and unquestionable word that the Snow Ball was a tremendous, financial success. My most humble apologies men. Anyway, this past weekend the boys combined the Sweetheart Ball with their traditional pledge party to make a fun-filled time for their members. Saturday night the brothers appeared at the Hotel Barnum for what proved to be a healthy match to last semester's party. The weekend was climaxed by the very solemn formal initiation of the new brothers, Richard Lifton, Ernie Levitt and Mal Shuldiener—Congrats, boys.

The sisters of Beta Gamma held their final rushee affair this past Sunday in the form of a punch party which we hear was a huge success. They are now looking forward to a jolly pledge week when the classic derbys and canes will again appear.

Last Saturday night the brothers of SOS held a party at the Barnum where they welcomed many of their alumni. The group was completely satiated by the end of the evening because of the abundance of food and drink. We think we know why brother Terry Johannesen has been going to church regularly for the past few weeks; it could be to impress his father-in-law to be, who is only the Minister.

This past Sunday evening the boys are having a buffet for prospective pledges.

Congrats to the newly elected officers of APO who will list according to the significance of their offices: Ralph True, Jr., president; Armand Cantafio, vice-president; Don Zadrozna, treasurer; Dexter Paul, recording secretary; Art Weinstein, corresponding secretary; Jerry Bogen, alumni secretary; Hugo James, historian; and Dick Kirk, sergeant-at-arms.

The brothers of KBR are presently extending their sincerest wishes to new comer Phyllis Peterson who presented herself to the UB campus as their candidate for Sweetheart Queen. Their weekend was highlighted by the Ball and by their joint cocktail party with AGP.

If you've looked wide-eyed and questioningly at the door knockers now being sported by prospective members of TS, we've got the scoop for you, we hear that they are significant of the fact that these men are "knocking on the door of opportunity—TS." There will be a pre-pledging beer party Friday night after the Fairfield game as well as another such blast next Wednesday night for the final selection of prospective tweeds.

The sisters of Phi Delta Rho wish to invite all girls interested in their group to their tea which is to take place this Sunday at Alumni Hall from 2 p.m. to 4 p.m.

The members of your version of a student government were entertained lavishly by Dr. Littlefield and his charming wife Sunday in their home. After the usual drawing room

Jane Shapiro, doesn't want it known, but the Bohemian Fred "Sweet and Sour" Pickle and she are "going steady." Jane, never tell friends a secret as they have a great deal of fun letting the cat out of the bag.

Have you noticed the light of love glowing in Ernie Antignani's eyes? Friends tell us it is inspired by the lovely miss he has been squiring around of late. They say "Mister Polka" met her at one of his Saturday polka parties.

Jeanne Taylor, the Park Hall charmer, now wears the blue and gold KBR pin belonging to Dick Siener. Jeanne is an elementary education major and Dick is studying history before entering the ministry.

The Calypso craze has really arrived at UB. The normally demure and conservative girls of Mrs. Mallner's Fashion Merchandising department will present a fashion show entitled, "Calypso Holiday." It will take place in Seaside Hall, March 12. After the tremendous acceptance of last semester, there will be three shows instead of the usual two. So, girls, if you are desirous of increasing your wardrobe with the latest fashions from Fifth Avenue, be sure to attend the show at either one, two or eight o'clock. The evening show is for the convenience of the girls having afternoon classes.

You know you've been shot-down when she tells you, "It's much more fun to double-date." SO LONG D.E.T.

talk, a variety of games were played. Lois Schwartz's swollen hand can be taken as evidence that playing with balloons can be dangerous. Is she kidding?? Student Council members one and all had a most enjoyable time.

Theta Sigma's gift to the UB Division of Engineering, Larry Varholak, is the latest member of the diminishing race of bachelors to throw caution to the wind. This fearless, unsuspecting male has been entangled permanently in the lover's web, spun by the very lovely Charlotte Feroletto. He has presented his "Fair Lady" with a girl's best friend. No, Ed, we don't mean that!

A round of applause should be extended to the Alumni Hall Program Committee for the fine jam session they sponsored at Alumni, Sunday. All reports received by this column were in favor of a repeat performance real soon.

Freshmen Courtmen Take Two

Led by the prolific scoring of Bob Laemel and Tony Granger, the Freshmen Knights won two encounters last week, downing the Newton Athletic Club 107-75 and the Chesterfield Satisfiers 87-74 to bring the season record to 14-2.

The Newton A. C., paced by Charley Milot and Harvey Wenz, gave the UBites a little trouble in the early part of the game but with Laemel, Granger, Ed Wysocki, and Charley Doyle hitting from all angles, UB pulled out to a 50-36 halftime lead.

Pouring it on in the second half, the Sacconemen romped to their 13th win of the season with 11 players scoring.

Laemel, the club's top point-getter, notched 29 points on nine field goals and 11 foul shots.

Wysocki, scoring from in close, hit for 17, while Doyle, Granger and Bill Koke also hit for double figures.

Joe Colello, playing but seven minutes, notched 18 points and dominated both backboards, as the February entrant to the yearling squad is gradually finding the range.

Going after the eighth straight win, Granger, second top scorer, (continued on page 4)

Cagers Drop Two

Knights Knocked From Lead In Tri-State League Contest

By Roger Lefkov

In what may well be termed a disastrous week of play, UB's Purple and White cagers dropped consecutive decisions to Hartwick College on Wednesday, and Fairleigh Dickinson on Saturday, and were thus forced to relinquish their number one position in the Tri-State League. Fairleigh Dickinson now leads the league with a 4-1 mark while Bridgeport's league record is 2-1.

The story of Wednesday's 91-84 setback at the hands of Hartwick can be summed up very adequately by looking at the foul shooting percentages. UB outshot the Warriors from the floor but only shot 41 per cent from the foul line as compared to Hartwick's 74 per cent from the charity line.

Harry Peters followed up his 37 point performance of the previous week with a fine 25 point effort against the Warriors. Also in double figures for UB was Larry Babich with 20, Hal Hellerman with 14, and George Dieter with 12.

On Saturday Bridgeport played host to their most serious contender, Fairleigh Dickinson, in what had been billed as the "big one" for the Glinesmen, but as it turned out it was just another rough and loosely played game with the Knights winding up on the short end of an 87-78 count.

UB started off on the right foot grabbing a 21-18 edge midway through the first half. However, good shooting from the foul line as well as the floor gave the visitors a 41-33 advantage at intermission. Babich and Peters accounted for 21 of Bridgeport's half-time total.

With the insertion of Hal Hellerman, who sat out most of the first half because of fouls, the Knights began to cut into the visitors' lead. Six straight points by Hellerman plus Charlie Jessup's two foul conversions reduced the Fairleigh Dickinson lead to 45-43.

With only two minutes gone by in the second half, at a time when they could least afford to lose him, 6'6" Larry Babich was forced to retire from the game on personal fouls, hampering Bridgeport's rebounding strength.

Fairleigh Dickinson widened its lead to 60-46 at the 14 minute mark, and despite the fine shooting of Peters and Hellerman held that margin of difference throughout most of the half. Bridgeport's chances received another setback when Hellerman fouled out with 2:23 remaining in the game. It was at this point that UB made its last ditch effort to catch Fairleigh. An interception and lay-up by Don Scott, a long set by captain Peters, and another midcourt interception and layup by Stan Roman cut the UB deficit to only six points, 83-77, with the clock showing 1:19 to go.

With first place at stake and tempers getting hot, the inevitable happened. Charlie Jessup, who had just been fouled, and Fairleigh Dickinson's Don Margolin began to slug it out. Within a matter of seconds both benches were on the scene and the prospects of a free for all seemed excellent. Only the intervention of the men in blue prevented a riot from taking place.

Fencers Win One, Lose One

Looking to make it two in a row the UB fencers traveled to New Jersey last Wednesday where they were handed their first setback of the young season, 16-11. Howie Bader led the attack for the saber team racking up three out of a possible three points. Also for the sabermen was Wally Shapiro with two for three.

Leading the epee team was Lenny Ledet with two out of three. While captain Dick Shelby was the top foilman with two out of three.

Returning home on Saturday, the fencers moved over the 500 mark once more as they outdueled Rutgers University to bring their season mark to 2-1.

Standouts for the sabermen in this match were Lou Alpert and Mickey Donahue, both with three out of three. Jim OHara led the epeemen with three for three while Lou Nappi was two for three. Rounding the fine team effort were foilmen Dick Shelby and Marshall Dickman, both with two out of three.

With three matches behind them Howie Bader leads the fencers with a total of seven out of a possible nine points.

The UB fencing squad will play host to Brooklyn Poly Saturday afternoon at 2 p.m. in the Gym.

Arnold Spartans Plan Sports Field Day

Peter Benedetti, president of the Arnold Spartans, announced that a field day for all physical education majors will take place in the Gym Feb. 23 from 7 p. m. to 11 p. m.

The Arnold Spartans, an organization for all physical education majors, held their last field day in the Gym with the University of Connecticut and New Haven State Teachers College.

The program will include badminton, volleyball and basketball. Following the sports program, refreshments will be served.

All physical education majors, who are interested in attending, are requested to notify their class representatives, who are: Bill Darragh, freshmen; Carol Shipman, sophomore; and John Profette, junior and senior.

Medical OK Needed for Adaptives

Handicapped students now have to have a doctor's approval in order not to participate in the regular physical education program, it was announced today by Dr. David A. Field, director of Arnold College.

Following a meeting with the Health Service, the Office of Student Personnel and Arnold College Division, a policy is now in effect regarding students who are handicapped to such an extent that they cannot participate in the regular physical education program.

Students who think they are unable to take part in normal physical education classes without endangering their health should consult the University physician, who will ask the student's physician to submit a statement regarding his particular condition. If this is approved by the University physician, the student will be recommended to register for P.E. 30, Adaptives. No other student will be permitted to register for the course.

Students participating in normal physical education programs who become incapacitated for any reason making it detrimental for them to continue in the course are obliged to report to the University physician. If he so advises, they will be transferred to P. E. 30, Adaptives, until that disability has been improved, then he will return to his original physical education class.

Awards Given At Luncheon

The newly-elected officers of the freshman class were presented with recognition pins by Pres. James H. Halsey at a luncheon in Marina Hall, yesterday at 1 p.m.

New officers of the freshman class are: Phyllis Whitney, president; Roberta Blender, vice-president; William Koke, secretary-treasurer; Judy Katz, first alternate; and Thomas Cupo, second alternate.

Following the presentation, Vice-president Henry W. Littlefield awarded "Who's Who" certificates to: Roberta Aronson, David Barr, William Bartlett, Judith Carr, Robert D'Andrea, Yolanda Delmore, Ann Foothorap, Wesley Hobby, James Ide, John Martin, Salvatore Mastandrea, Nicholas Panuzio, Edmund Ramos, Bertram Siegel, Barbara Warner, Elise Wolf, Bette Weber and Murray Pruess.

Immediately following the "Who's Who" presentations, James Pomeroy, National Student Government vice-president, spoke on honor and judicial systems, class elections and activities, arousing interest in campus activities (especially in the Student Council), and campus current events (political awareness) programming.

AUDITION MUSICIANS

Paul Grey, chairman of personnel for the University Community Orchestra, announced that auditions for new members would be held every Tuesday at 8:15 p. m. at the Music Hall. He further stated that all musicians should bring their own instruments.

FRESHMEN TAKE TWO

paced UB to a 39-34 halftime advantage over the Chesterfield Satisfiers.

With Colello and Wysocki leaping all over the backboards, the Knights overhauled the New York club, which had gained an early 13 point lead, with former Manhattan College cager Ed Malloy showing the way.

With Granger, driving, setting and jump shooting for 29 points and Colello's fine 17 point performance, Saccone's yearlings notched the win.

Laemel hit for 11 and aided Colello and Wysocki under the boards.

The Knights return to action tomorrow night to attempt to over-ride Fairfield University's freshmen. The Red Stags stopped the Knights by one point earlier in the season.

USSR MINUS STALIN

Dr. Norman F. Auburn, president of the University of Akron, will speak on "Russia Without Stalin" at the convocation at 8 p. m. on Tuesday, Feb. 26, in the Drama Center.

Sponsored by the Student Education Assoc., the convocation will be open to all students, faculty members and their families and friends.

Dr. Auburn, who was a member of a group of educators and clergymen which toured Russia last summer and studied the higher education system in that country, is the current secretary-treasurer of this organization.

The lecture, which will reveal future trends in the Soviet Union, will be the kickoff talk to start the series of University Community Cultural talks being given here this spring by prominent speakers.

CAGERS DROP TWO

fouled as he drove through the key hole. His foul conversion brought UB to within five points of the visitors. However, this was as close as Bridgeport came as Fairleigh Dickinson sewed it up with two last minute buckets. Bridgeport's overall season record now stands at 7-11.

This extremely hard fought contest saw a total of 66 personal fouls committed. Although UB shot 67 per cent from the foul line they committed 39 fouls as compared to 27 for Fairleigh Dickinson.

Harry Peters led the UB scoring attack with 23 points, while Hal Hellerman was second with 17, all coming in the second half. Don Margolin topped the winners with 20 points. Peters is currently leading the UB scorers with an average of 20.1 points per game.
